

SPB479 : Project and Portfolio VII: Show Production

The Project and Portfolio VII: Show Production course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. In this course, students will produce a live concert event with a full band in a professional performance venue. Students will design, manage, and engineer all elements of the show. Student production team members will be responsible for show marketing, production management, stage management, visual media, and all audio, video, and lighting of the event. In addition, students will produce an audio and video recording of the event.
