

SCS4111 : Advanced Reporting and Practice

In the Advanced Reporting and Practice course, students will utilize audio and video equipment to gather and report news for radio, television, and digital outlets. Students will produce and edit television and web news reports under the pressure of deadlines, both for taped and live performances.

Credits 4