

APB469 : Project and Portfolio VI: Audio Production

The Project and Portfolio VI: Audio Production course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. In this course, students will focus on audio production for visual media. Students will apply their understanding of audio development for both linear and nonlinear media to yield a functional and polished portfolio piece. In creating audio for visual media, students will demonstrate their grasp of dialogue, foley, game engines, and appropriate sound design in their projects.
