ADF119 : Project and Portfolio I: Application Development Fundamentals

The Project and Portfolio I: Application Development Fundamentals course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. This course explores the various production workflows, programming methodologies, and logical approaches to business solutions for planning and executing technical projects. In this course, students will reflect on and refine their portfolio project leading up to a showcase presentation.

Credits 3
Course Length 4 weeks