

ECW2123 : Literary Techniques and Story Development

The Literary Techniques and Story Development course provides a broad spectrum and intensive study of authorial choices and literary techniques that bring meaning and direction to stories. By employing literary devices, authors play upon their readers' conscious and unconscious experiences and archetypes, which in turn shapes the interpretation by and impact on the audience.

Credits 4