

MDV357 : Project and Portfolio V: Mobile Development

The Project and Portfolio V: Mobile Development course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. This course enables students to synthesize their Android development and design skills to plan, develop, and deploy an interactive mobile application for use on Android devices.

Credits 3