

SHP3713 : Live Production Management

The Live Production Management course explores the principles, personnel, and skills needed to plan and execute various live events. Students will focus on technology implementation, systems design, documentation, and techniques used in developing preproduction strategies and post-event evaluations.

Credits 4

Course Length 4 weeks