

MAN3152 : Leadership and Organizational Behavior

The Leadership and Organizational Behavior course consists of an inquiry into the leadership characteristics that inspire others to take action. Students will learn how leadership and organizational structures affect human behavior within organizations. This course includes an in-depth self-assessment that allows students to identify their personal strengths and weaknesses and understand how these qualities affect other individuals as well as group behavior. This course also provides strategies for decision making and building effective teams and encourages students to explore the difficulties, compromises, and rewards of collaboration and of different leadership models.
