

FLM3415 : Broadcast Production II

In the Broadcast Production II course, students will use the skills acquired in Broadcast Production I to explore the various roles through work performed in practical labs. Students will expand their understanding of preproduction, location shooting, editing, graphics, and writing for these modes of production.

Credits 4