

MPB229 : Project and Portfolio II: Music Production

The Project and Portfolio II: Music Production course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. In this course, students will demonstrate increased mastery of musical structures and production techniques. They will compose and program original loop-based sequences using digital audio workstation software. Special emphasis is given to current trends in hip-hop, electronic, and other relevant styles of popular music.

Credits 3