MPB469 : Project and Portfolio VI: Music Production

The Project and Portfolio VI: Music Production course combines hands-on learning experiences with summative and formative portfolio assessments. In this course, students will apply their prior commercial music experience with advanced audio-engineering skills. As they score to locked picture, students will compose music for dramatic settings and interact with the instructor in a way that closely simulates real-world collaboration between a producer and client.

Credits 3